OLMSTED'S PATENT STOVE.
THIS STOVE was invented and patented by Professor Olmsted of Yale College. It was originally designed for study chambers, but being found equally well adapted to family apartments, it came immediately into extensive use among the inhabitants of New Haven, and the demand for it here and elsewhere is rapidly increasing.

It is at present made chiefly of SHEET IRON, this material being esteemed on all accounts the the most eligible; but it may be constructed either wholly or in part of cast iron should that be preferred.

The chief peculiarity of this stove, consists of substituting for the open pipe usually employed to distribute the heat generated by anthracite coal, an apparatus called a RADIATOR, which though of comparatively small dimensions, has an effect in absorbing and distributing the heat produced by coal equal to that of a very long pipe. By this means, the unsightly appearance of a stove pipe, traversing the apartment, is avoided, while the saving of material greatly diminishes the expense. The Radiator consists of two concentric cylinders having a narrow space of half an inch to an inch between them, through which the heated current is made to circulate in its passage from the chamber of combustion to the chimney. The current is thus brought CLOSELY INTO CONTACT with the two contiguous surfaces, heating at once the outer and inner cylinder: The former sends it heat into the apartment by direct radiation; the latter being open at the top and bottom, causes a current of air to flow through it like the chimney of an Argand lamp. The air within being rarefied by heat, flows out in a continual current at the top, while the colder air of the apartment flows in at the bottom, and becomes heated in turn. This adds greatly to the effect, contributing more indeed towards heating an apartment, than the direct radiation from the surface, and equalling the temperature in a remarkable degree

The objects aimed at in the construction of this Stove are to be SIMPLE, so that domestics can easily manage it; to be quickly kindled; to be capable of affording either a MILD or an INTENSE HEAT, according to the state of the weather, to preserve the AIR of the apartment PURE AND WHOLESOME, to avoid all inconveniences from DUST, and finally, to be CHEAP and ECONOMICAL.

It is confidently believed, that this stove fulfils as many of the conditions, as any one now invented, and in a degree attainable only by an inventor, like the present, long and intimately acquainted with the laws of heat.

The CHAMBER STOVE is usually from 9 to 10 inches in diameter, and from 21 to 20 inches high. Its position is commonly on the hearth, or the usual place of the andirons. The fireplace being closed up two pipes one from the back of each cylinder, enters the wall thus formed, (or a sheet iron fireboard,) each pipe being furnished with a damper. This variety is adapted to students rooms, offices, and particularly to NURSERIES, affording as it does, peculiar facilities for warming liquids, or medicinal preparations.

The PARLOR STOVE has two radiators and is capable of warming the largest rooms in ordinary houses.

The HALL STOVE is adapted to situations where a communication is made with a distant flue by means of a long pipe, as in hotels, stores, &c. One ton of fine and half a ton of coarse coal is an adequate supply for the chamber stove, for one season. Two tons is a full allowance for the parlor stove, when made of the usual dimensions

To be had only at No. 8, Central Street

AMERICAN MUSEUM.
THE American Museum of Literature and the Arts, will combine the solidity of a review with the lighter miscellany of a magazine; besides impartial reviews of important works and short notices of minor literary productions by the editors, it will embrace essays, tales, historiettes, poetry, literary and scientific intelligence, and translations from standard and periodical works in other languages, contributed by some of the ablest writers of the day.

The Magazine will also contain a series of reviews of such writers as have, by their talents, shed lustre upon American literature. The reviews will be accompanied by portraits of the authors, engraved on steel, by the best artists. The work will be beautifully printed, with new type, upon fine paper, and will make two volumes each year, of more than 500 pages each.

Agencies will be established in the periodical cities, and arrangements made to deliver the work free of postage. As the Museum is printed on a medium and a half sheet, the highest postage that can be charged to any part of the country, for one year, will be $1 05 cents. Persons desirous of acting as agents, will please apply post paid. Terms, $5 per annum, payable on the delivery of the first number, 5 copies $20.

RICHARDSON'S DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE,
Parts 19 and 20, this day published.

There is not a work, either of general practical utility, or of philology in particular, that has so largely united the suffrages of the public press in its favor, as this Dictionary. Both in Europe and in America it has received the meed of general approbation. The compiler has assumed the principle of Horne Tooke, that each word had originally but one meaning, and that all the result of combination, modification, or the mutability to which language itself is subject. In the plan of this Dictionary the compiler has adopted the rule which Dr. Johnson originally proposed for his own government, viz: that of giving, first the primitive meaning, then the consequential, and afterwards the metaphorical; accompanying his definitions by quotations, commencing with the earliest authorities and bringing them down to the most recent dates. TUESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1838.

☞ Our Washington letters, from some cause or other, fail to reach us in due course of mail, and this morning the whole batch have come to hand. The letter giving an account of the organization of the House, though it is received rather late in the day, we shall publish to-morrow, in order that the correspondence may be complete, and as the facts therein recorded may be referred to by future reference.

[Correspondence of the Whig & Courier.]

WASHINGTON, December 4, 1838.

SECOND DAY OF THE SESSION.

Among a variety of resolutions introduced to-day by different members of the House of Representatives, was the following series offered by the Hon. John Quincy Adams. Having been favored with an early opportunity to procure a copy, I transmit them, as curiosities, by the first mail.

They were ordered to lie on the table, on motion of Mr. Hopkins of Va. by a vote of 140 to 57, taken by yeas and nays.

Resolved, That a Committee of [ ] members be appointed, with leave to send for persons and papers, to enquire and report to this House,

1. Whether Andrew Stevenson, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the United States at London, is, or has recently been engaged in a public newspaper controversy, involving his personal integrity, and the honor of the country whose representative he is, with Daniel O'Connell, a member of the Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland?

2. Whether the said Andrew Stevenson, holding the privileged character of an Ambassador, has, in concert with three other persons, citizens of the United States, one of whom was an officer of their Navy, engaged in a conspiracy, with intent to "stop the wind", or in the language of the laws of God and of man, to murder the said Daniel O'Connell, in a duel, or by premeditated provocation to a brawl.

3. Whether the said Andrew Stevenson, after a written demand of explanation, in the form usual among duellists, as a preliminary to a challenge, preconcerted with the said three other citizens of the United States, did accept of an answer from the said Daniel O'Connell, equally unsatisfactory to the codes of genuine and of spurious honor, and thereby tacitly admit the truth of the imputation upon his honor, at which he had professed to take offence.

4. Whether the said Andrew Stevenson, in these transactions, has violated the duties of his office as an Ambassador of peace, the laws of nations, the laws of the land, to the government of which he was accredited, the privileges of the British House of Commons, in the person of one of its members, and the interest of his own country.

5. Whether the said Andrew Stevenson has, in these transactions, so conducted himself, as to require the constitutional interposition of this House, by impeachment or otherwise?

Rather bold charges these, in the form of interrogation, though they be! They made a little excitement for the time, but were forthwith disposed of, as above stated.

The first business in order in the House this morning, was the swearing in of the new Clerk, a very prepossessing, gentlemanly looking person, who seemed to get on finely in the discharge of his new duties. He read the Message, which came in soon after he took his chair, quite distinctly, audibly and with expressive emphasis.

Prior to this, however, there were a number of Resolutions offered and disposed of.

Mr. Adams offered to the House a joint resolution of thanks to thanks to George Washington Lafayette, for a volume of his father's Memoirs transmitted through Mr. Adams to the Library of Congress. Adopted, after an approving speech from the mover.

[illegible] also offered a joint resolution, that [illegible] be chosen. Passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. Adams moved a resolution, that the Texas resolutions and legislative resolutions be taken from the table of last session and referred to a select committee.

Mr. Mercer asked the Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs if Texas had not withdrawn his application?

Mr. Pickens replied, not as he knew of. He had seen it in newspapers, or in the public prints. [The Message, ten minutes after was read, and decide all this to be the fact.] He moved to lay the resolutions on the table. Yeas and Nays ordered. The motion of Mr. H. prevailed 136 to 61.

The Message came in, and having been read, Mr. Forney, Hayne of Georgia, moved the printing of the usual number of copies, which prevailed, and the House adjourned.

The Senate had nothing to do but to hear the Message read. Having done this, they adjourned, [illegible] it, and their dinner, together.

I should have mentioned that a resolution was passed through the House 93 to 52, to give the Speaker [illegible] salary.

[illegible]

The National Bank hobby is ridden even to desperation, "Well" it cried, as usual, the diplomacy of the Administration is much lauded, its policy much beguiled,—the Sub-Treasury is recommended, anew, Canada, Texas, Mexico, &c. are touched upon; and, to crown the whole, a Committee of Congress is recommended to be raised, for the purpose of looking into the accounts of the Departments! Precious hypocrisy! Yours, &c.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5, 1838.

A dull day in both Houses of Congress.

The Senate [illegible] the House, to choose a Chaplain for each branch, and adjourned.

The House listened to an announcement of the deaths of Messrs. Bryan and Patterson, of New York, from their colleagues, Messrs. Gray and Fillmore, passed the resolutions usual on such occasions, and also adjourned.

Mr. Fowler of Massachusetts, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of the Hon. Mr. Phillips, and also elected to the next Congress, took his seat and the usual oaths.

The usual Executive communications from the different departments were received and appropriately disposed of.

Nothing else was done.

Yours, &c.

December 6th.

FOURTH DAY OF THE SESSION.

Neither house of Congress did anything to-day, of the least importance, but meet and adjourn.

The Senate had a short Executive session.

The House authorized the Speaker, as is usual, to appoint the Standing Committees.

The adjournment was until next Monday, the 10th—a long holiday!

Since the choice of Clerk, speculation has been rife as to the results of this session. Sawyer and Shepard, the runagate traitors who have deserted their professed faith, under the impending terrors of South Carolina Calhounism, leave the Whigs no longer doubtful, you see, as to the course they mean hereafter to take. The former bolted at the last session, upon the Sub Treasury bill. The other came to the performance of this disagreeable task more deliberately and reluctantly, but still he did come to it. He has now given out that he is hereafter to go with the party in power, and it is understood to be a settled thing that he is the Van Buren candidate for re-election in his own district, next spring! Reports vary as to the political complexion of this district. It is that formerly represented by Jesse Speight, a het Loco Foco, and it would be wonderful, if, with all the influence at work in North Carolina just now, it could not be again loco focoized by a busy and popular man. Still, there are sensible and shrewd men from that section of country, who declare that, if the Whigs will only do their bounden duty there, they may easily triumph.

The Sub-Treasury bill is to be again urged upon this Congress, as ordered by the President, and pertinaciously advised by his facile Secretary of Finance. If passed at this session, it becomes the law of the land, "in spite of the lamentations of the people, here and elsewhere," for three or four years at least. For the next Congress cannot repeal it, constituted as the Senate is and will be, and if they did, the repeal could not be carried by two-thirds of the House and Senate against the veto of the President—But will it pass?

Of the result, I am by no means sure. I feel nothing of that sanguine confidence in the House now, that animated me, in common with the majority of my party, at the last session. The fearful inroads made by the Calhoun school of politicians, for their own idol's peculiar behoof, upon the opinions of some southern whigs, by a skillful—but most jesuitical and fallacious use of the party cries of abolitionism and southern interests, are enough to stagger my trust in the firmness of several conscientious opponents of this fatal measure. The only hope is, that no bill of the kind can possibly be passed, to meet the views of both the divisions of "the party," the Van Burenites and the Calhounites. The latter will go for no bill not fully agreeable to their master. Will the former be equally tenacious of their peculiar notions on this subject?

But, "sink or swim, survive or perish," the duty of the Whig party, in Congress, at this session, is straight forward, and plain. Resist, by word and action, by voice and vote, by party fidelity and patriotic devotion, resist this baleful measure. Do whatever others may, their work has been cut out for them, by their own hands. They are their own exemplars in the path of duty. Yours, &c.

BANGOR LYCEUM. We bespeak the particular attention of our citizens to the lecture to be delivered before the Lyceum this evening by S. H. BLAKE, Esq. His subject we understand is to be the antiquities of America. This is a subject of the most interesting character and well [illegible] the attention of the American community. Mr. Blake we understand has taken particular pains to prepare himself and to make himself acquainted with his subject, and judging from his character as a finished and eloquent writer, as well as a good speaker, we have little doubt that he audience will be highly interested as well as instructed by his lecture.

The [illegible] continuation of "[illegible]" is in type, and will [illegible] morrow.

PENNSYLVANIA.

☞ From the Harrisburg Intelligencer of Dec. 6, (6 o'clock, P. M.)—We learn that the mob is still in full possession of the State Capitol, and that the two Houses on that day made no attempt at meeting, as it would have been useless. The Loco Foco citizens of Harrisburg give the rioters their full countenance. Judge Blythe has lectured some of the leaders on their treasonable proceedings, and declared that the course of the Secretary had been precisely what his own course would have been under the circumstances, and the only one proper under the law.

It is reported that the Locofocos have sent on an additional force to compel our members and Senators into their measures.

It is said to be the intention of our friends in both Houses to adjourn from time to time, in the hope that the people will put down the mob, or that it will of itself disperse. We are assured that no blow will be struck by our friends until the patience and dignity of human nature are entirely exhausted. The aggression has already been made upon us and upon the law of the State, by the bullies here, who have driven the Senate from its Hall and now prevent either House from meeting, having forcibly ejected the Speaker of the House from the Capitol yesterday, at the peril of his life.

LATEST.

The N. Y. Express of Saturday evening says:

Philadelphia has begun to feel for the shameful outrages in her State Capital. By order of the Governor, Major General Patterson has ordered out the Volunteer companies to go to Harrisburg 7 o'clock this day, unless the order is countermanded.

The Whigs and Locos both held a large meeting yesterday (Friday) in Independence Square. H. G. Corbitt, a member of the Society of Friends presided over the Whig meeting. The Resolutions were most conciliatory. C. J. Ingersoll harangued the Locofoco meeting in his usual inflammatory style.

From the Phila. Inquirer of Friday.

A gentleman called at our office last evening, and stated that several of the ringleaders of the mob at Harrisburg, had been arrested by virtue of bench warrants, issued by Judge Blythe. The game of outrage and violence is, we trust, about to be brought to a close.

From the N. Y. Express of Saturday.

MR. PRICE TO MR. VAN BUREN.

To the President of the United States:

U. S. Dist. Atty's Office,
NEW YORK, Dec. 6th, 1838.

SIR. In the course of my public and personal relations with Samuel Swartwout, Esq. former Collector of this District, I have had no occasion to question either his intention or ability to absolve himself from all obligations to Government or individuals.

The Solicitor of the Treasury has officially requested me to superintend and control the proceedings against him and his sureties, for the collection by Distress Warrant against his person, and the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of both principal and sureties.

Inasmuch as I doubt both that the claim against him (Swartwout,) has been truly stated, and that the summary process to obtain it has been constitutionally issued by the Solicitor of the Treasury, I beg leave to decline any official connexion with it. Under these circumstances, I cannot consent to become the instrument of their delegation. My office of District attorney of the United States, is therefore hereby surrendered to you, with the hope that you will speedily direct an account to be stated between the Treasury Department and myself, in order that I may be absolved from any personal liability in the premises.

The amount of costs due to me for the unfinished business of the office I hold, will far exceed that which I have recently received from debtors of Government, and will, upon a final adjustment, entirely acquit me of any indebtedness to it.

I have the honor to be,
With great respect,
Your obedient servant,
WILLIAM M. PRICE
District Attorney of the southern,
District of New York.

(Mr. Price left this missive behind him for the President. It is but a Log-Sub-Treasury fashion of uttering an "adieu." There is now a good office to be filled—by some new hungry hound, and several are already looking for it.

Lower Canada.—A destructive fire occurred in Quebec, on the 29th ult., by which forty five houses were consumed. The houses were principally built of wood, and on a narrow street; more than a hundred families were left houseless at the commencement of this most inclement season, by this calamity.

Reports were in circulation at Montreal that an incursion had been made into Upper Canada, near Malden, and the brigands had been beaten off by the regulars. Another report was, that two steamboats & eleven schooners, full of armed men, had been seen opposite Amherstburg. A letter from London states, that the 32d Regiment stationed at that place, had been ordered to Amherstburg.

A letter from Montreal, dated Nov. 28th, in the Commercial of last evening, states that Mr. Kitchin the Russian Consul at Boston, while on a visit to Montreal, with his family, was arrested at the house of a friend, on suspicion of being a Russian Spy; part of his baggage was taken from him, and his private letters opened and examined. He was examined by Sir John Colburne in person, who, on hearing his account of himself, and his station at Boston, promised his immediate release; but for some unexplained reason, he was detained for severeal days, and then allowed to leave the city. The Montreal papers to Monday last, makes no mention of this, though the arrest is said to have taken place nearly two weeks ago.

Spirit of McKenzie's Gazette.—As this paper has become the organ of the Rebels in the Canadas, as well as the Rebels for the Canadas, what it says, is worth attention. Bill Johnson writes, "Near Auburn, Dec. 4, that Gen. Birge ought to be burnt or hung." Johnson calls him an arrant coward. A writer from St. Albans says, "Every step he makes, will cost Great Britain millions. If he stop immigration we ruin the British trade. Should they (the Government) execute one (prisoner) we will retaliate." W. W. Dodge publishes an affidavit, that Sergeant Norman of the Coldstream Guards no way aided him in his escape from Prescot. (Norman has been thrown into prison on suspicion [illegible] Canada.) [illegible] Connor, New York, proposes to receive subscriptions [illegible] Canadians.

A Subtreasurer. The Burlington (Vt.) Free Press states that P. Hunton, acting as postmaster of Essex, was arrested on the 24th ult. on a charge of purloining money from the mail. He was examined before a justice, and the proofs being conclusive of numerous and repeated depredations, extended through the entire period he had charge of the office, he was ordered to find bonds in the sum of $2000, for his appearance at the Circuit Court, in May in default of which he was committed to Montpelier Jail.

The Legislature of South Carolina assembled at Columbia on the 26th ult. The officers of last year were unanimously re-elected. The Governor's message delivered the next day, is concise and occupied alone with state affairs, without any reference to national politics or the currency question.

☞ We copied the message from an extra received from the office of the Salem Register, which did not contain the two following paragraphs. We did not discover the omission until after our paper was issued.

The condition of the tribes which occupy the country set apart for them in the west, is highly prosperous, and encourages the hope of their early civilization. They have, for the most part abandoned the hunter state, and turned their attention to agricultural pursuits. All those who have been established for any length of time in that fertile region, maintain themselves by their own industry. There are among them traders of no inconsiderable capital, exporting cotton to some extent, but the greater number small agriculturists, living in comfort upon the produce of their farms. The recent emigrants, although they have in some instances removed reluctantly, have readily acquiesced in their unavoidable destiny. They have found at once a recompense for past sufferings, and an incentive to industrious habits in the abundance and comforts around them. There is reason to believe that all these tribes are friendly in their feelings towards the United States, and it is to be hoped that the acquisition of individual wealth, the pursuits of agriculture, and the habits of industry, will gradually subdue their warlike propensities, and incline them to maintain peace among themselves. To effect this desirable object, the attention of Congress is solicited to the measures recommended by the Secretary of War, for their future government and protection, as well from each other as from the hostility of the warlike tribes around them, and the intrusions of the white. The policy of government has given them a permanent home and guarantied to them its peaceful and undisturbed possession. It only remains to give them a government and laws which will encourage industry, and secure to them the rewards of their exertions. The importance of some form of government cannot be too much insisted upon. The earliest efforts will be made to diminish the causes and occasions for hostilities among the tribes, to inspire an interest in the observance of laws to which they will have themselves assented, and to multiply the securities of property, and the motives for self-improvement. Intimately connected with this subject, is the establishment of the military defences recommended by the Secretary of War, which have been already referred to. Without them, the Government will be powerless to redeem its pledges of protection to the emigrating Indians against the numerous warlike tribes that surround them, and to provide for the safety of the frontier settlers of the bordering States.

From the reports of the Secretary of the Navy, herewith transmitted, it will appear that a large portion of the disposable naval force is either actively employed, or in a state of preparation for the purposes of experience and discipline, and the protection of our commerce. So effectual has been this protection, that, so far as the information of Government extends, not a single outrage has been attempted upon a vessel carrying the flag of the United States, in any quarter, however distant or exposed.

The exploring expedition sailed from Norfolk on the 19th of August last, and information has been received of its safe arrival at the Island of Madeira. The best spirit animates the officers and crews, and there is every reason to anticipate from its efforts, results beneficial to commerce and honorable to the nation.

It will also be seen that no reduction of the force now in commission is contemplated. The unsettled state of a portion of South America renders it indispensable that our commerce should receive protection in that quarter; the vast and increasing interests embarked in the India and China seas, in the whale fisheries of the Pacific ocean, and in the Gulf of Mexico, require equal attention to their safety; and a small squadron may be employed to great advantage on our Atlantic coast, in meeting sudden demands for the reinforcement of other stations, in aiding merchant vessels in distress, in affording active service to an additional number of officers, and in visiting the different parts of the United States, an accurate knowledge of which is obviously of the highest importance.

The attention of Congress is respectfully called to that portion of the report recommending an increase in the number of smaller vessels, and to other suggestions contained in that document. The rapid increase and wide expansion of our commerce, which is every day seeking new avenues of profitable adventure; the [illegible] necessity of a naval force for its protection [illegible] the rights and honor; the recollection of its former exploits, and [illegible] policy of future triumphs whenever [illegible] [illegible] to the [illegible]

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

THE best medicine for Coughs, Colds, and all Lung complaints, Hooping Cough, Spitting of Blood, Pain in the Side, Liver Complaint, and affections of the breast, is Mrs. M. N. GARDNER'S INDIAN BALSAM OF LIVERWORT, containing the strength of many roots and herbs. Among the number are Liverwort, Elecampane, Boneset, Asclepias tuberosa, Iceland Moss, Squills, Hyssop, Rata Graveolens, also many other herbs not to be procured in this part of the globe. For the last ten years this valuable Balsam has been in extensive use in most of the principal towns in the Northern States, and by the persuasion of those that have tested its efficacy, the Proprietor has made [illegible] with the [illegible] of this place, (if I all may) [illegible] themselves of this remedy, before the disease gets so seated that no medicine will remove it. Its effect on obstinate coughs is truly wonderful, and the following individuals voluntarily give their names as among the number who have proved its efficacy. From the knowledge of the materials, and the favorable effect upon our patients, where we have prescribed the above Balsam, we recommend it to be a valuable medicine. [illegible] Colton Ellis, M. D., [illegible] Williams, M. D., [illegible] Medical Society. Also, see certificates on the direction, what astonishing cures it has effected for. A. Webster, Boston, Horace Lull, Bristol, Me., Thos. Hopkins jr., Boston, Elish Horton, firm of Baker & Horton, Boston, David Woodbury, clerk of Josiah Stendman, Mrs. L. Howard. Thousands of others could be named, where it is well known. As a security against counterfeits, each direction will be signed by the Proprietor, M. N. Gardner. Proprietor's residence 48 Washington Street, Boston, where all orders can be addressed. The [illegible] on the bottle, imprinted in the glass, Mrs. M. N. Gardner's Indian [illegible] of Liverwort.

TOOTH-ACHE! TOOTH-ACHE!!

GENUINE BUFFALO OIL.

THE HAIR! THE HAIR! THE HAIR!

THE greatest ornament to the human body is a splendid head of hair. It has recently been discovered that the genuine Buffalo's Oil is a sovereign remedy for baldness, prevents the hair from coming off, promotes the growth, continues the luxuriance, and improves the beauty. It is far superior to any other animal or vegetable oil, and in case of fever, where the hair becomes dry and begins to fall off, there is no application more effectual in restoring its beauty and rendering it in a healthy state.

It is put up at a low price, (37 1-2 cents) that all classes can have access to it. None genuine unless put up in flat bottles, with HAIR OIL impressed in the glass. Also, to prevent imposition, it will be signed by Wm Brown, 491 Washington, corner of Eliot Street, Boston.

NEVER FOR A MOMENT FORGET THAT

BRIGHAM'S PILLS

Can never be obtained, Genuine, of Pedlars or Druggists! They invariably sell Base Counterfeits calculated to injure and therefore ruin the Genuine article! Remember! Go to

SMITH & FENNO'S,

Where you can be certain of the Genuine Article.

B. BRANDRETH, M. D.

"PUBLIC OPINION IS SELDOM WRONG." Junius.

PHILLIPS'S UNIVERSAL PILLS! Public opinion is perhaps the only unerring guide from where derision ceases and praise begins. And when there is evidence of its approval as there is with Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills? Step by step this medicine worked its way into favor, in spite of ridicule, derision and scorn. Triumphant has been its progress to its present sphere of extensive usefulness. It has surmounted obstacles before which men have sunk paralyzed and has gained for itself a reputation which neither Physicians nor Quacks, nor counterfeiting apothecaries can ever injure. These charlatans, nevertheless, do assail it with the malignant shafts of their despicable envy, and which rebounds upon themselves with a power each day on the increase, until they themselves will be covered with the slime of their own manufacturing. They can no more injure the reputation of Brandreth's Pills than they can put their hand upon the sun.

"Or with polluted fingers tarnish it."

If to discover the cause and nature of disease and if to make a medicine universal in its powers, and universal in its curative effects upon every kind of malady, proved by the cures performed upon thousands of persons, restored to the blessings of health.

If to do these things be praiseworthy, then is Dr. Benjamin Brandreth entitled to the praise of this and each succeeding generation. By the means he points out, chronic infirmities and premature death are prevented. What are the means? Simply Vegetable Purgation, and it is now an established fact that there is no other way by which a REAL CURE can be effected.

John Dorr's County Agency being discontinued by mutual consent, Sub-Agents in Waldo, Penobscot, Hancock and Washington Counties, will hereafter receive their supplies from Mr. JOHN O. LANGLEY, Dr. Brandreth's duly authorized Travelling Agent, or from the New England Office

19 HANOVER STREET, 19.

The ONLY Office in Boston for Dr. BRANDRETH'S VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL PILLS.

How to be secure from Counterfeit Pills purporting to be Brandreth's Pills.

STOREKEEPERS' SECURITY. All persons who are authorized to travel for Doctor Benjamin Brandreth have invariably the power of attorney from him proved before the Clerk of the County of New-York. Without this is exhibited, touch, taste, nor handle.

STILL FURTHER, Dr. Brandreth's Travellers never require the money in advance, Dr. B's terms being Medicine to be paid for when sold.

SECURITY TO THE PUBLIC. Observe that the certificate is dated this year, Eighteen hundred and thirty eight, in figures, and see that such figures are engraved, not written.

Inquire whether the power of attorney was seen when the Pills were left, &c.

All Pills having Wm. Brandreth on the label George Hodgkinson on the edge, are counterfeits, made to Deceive the Public and evade the law at the same time.

These, and indeed ALL counterfeit Pills, if used according to the direction which accompany my Pills, are calculated to destroy life. They are made by men having no standing or respectability, without habitation or name, perfectly careless of consequences, provided money is obtained. Extract from Dr. B's. address to citizens of U. S.

And be careful to remember that I have never authorized any Doctor, Druggist, Apothecary or Pedlar in the U. S. to sell my pills. These contemptible persons universally sell counterfeits, and that all Tradesmen who are made agents, have each of them a copper plate certificate of agency, signed in writing with a pen by me; and which certificate requires renewal every twelve months, it being no guarantee for more than one year from date observe the date is not written, it is engraved.

B BRANDRETH, M. D.
241, Broadway, New York.

☞ N. B. All travellers from me have a Power of Attorney, proved before the Clerk of the County of New York. Observe it.

Dr. Brandreth at a very great expense, established the following offices for the exclusive sale of his Vegetable Universal Pills, which he begs to be understood shall be always equal to what they have been, and that no expense shall be spared in their manufacture. This he guarantees on his honour.
